TWO INTERNATIONAL WEDDINGS THIS WEEK

Debutantes Will Be at Tuxedo's Autumn Dance—More Dates Chosen for Winter Entertaining

WITH outdoor pastimes, except golf and hunting, at an end, country life has lost some of its attractions for those who have been obliged to remain in town and who have seized upon the opportunities for trips to the country offered by horse shows and races which have been more or less in the nature of private enterprises. By degrees country places

Miss Katherine Cumcock Hodgett, whose parents, Mr. and Mrs. John W. Hodgett, had leased for the winter the home of Mr. and Mrs. Oakleigh Thorne in Park avenue. This house was sold last week and Mr. and Mrs. Hodgett immediately secured for the winter the artistic home of Lloyd Warren in Fifth avenue, which with its studio of generous proportions is admirably adapted for entertaining on a large scale. Mr. and Mrs. Hodgett will give a ball at Sherry's for their daughter on the night of December 29.

Afternoon receptions for debutantes will be many. Mrs. Joseph A. Flannery, who has taken 612 Fifth avenue for the winter, will give an afternoon reception for her daughter, Miss Viola are being closed and that many of the people who figure in the important gatherings of the winter are now in town was evidenced by the gatherings at the Russian Ballet throughout the past week.

Weddings are now holding the interest of society and there will be some of note this week. Another American girl is to become the bride of a man of title and on Wednesday Miss Margaret Preston Draper will be married in Washington to Prince Andre Boncompagni-Rome, a member of one of the most ancient families in Italy. Miss Draper has spent much of her life in foreign countries, her father having been the American Ambassador to Italy and her grandfather, Gen. Preston, being at one time Minister to Spain; therefore it is not to be wondered at that she should choose to be the wife of a foreigner. It is said by those who have followed the history of international marriages that these contracted between American women and Italians have been uniformly happy, something which cannot be said of some other international unions.

Tuxedo will be very gay this week. The annual autumn dance has been set for Friday night, on the following day Miss Adelaide Cannon, daughter of a former marriage of Mrs. Theodore Freidman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Elliott, will be married to Henry Liden of Holland, and this will be the second international marriage of the week. The wedding will bring many relatives and friends of the bride to Tuxedo. Therefore the ball on Friday night should be brilliant and it will also serve to bring out many of the winter's debutantes who will be formally introduced in town some weeks later.

A wedding in Brooklyn on Saturday will have an interest for many who live in Manhattan. It is that of Miss Dorothy Elliott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Elliott, who will be married to Amos Morrill of Manhattan. Miss Dorothy Cramp, daughter of the late Edwin S. Cramp of the shipbuilding firm of worldwide fame, will be married to Reuben James Ross in the church of the Resurrection on Wednesday of next week and a small reception will follow at the home of a friend of the bride's family. The same day, November 1, has been chosen for their wedding day by Miss will have a quiet wedding on November 18 at the bride's home in East Sixty-third street. This marriage will have an interest for many families who for several generations have been identified with New York and Boston. Miss Horland's father was a member of one of Boston's leading families and her mother, who before her marriage was Constance Rives, was one of the Rives twins and a daughter of the late Francis R. Rives, her twin sister being Mrs. Walker Brown Smith. Another sister is Mrs. David King of Newport and her brothers now living are George L. Rives and Reginald Rives.

There is yet much clashing in dates for the numerous entertainments being arranged for debutantes, and those who have organized the dinner dances, the first of which will be held at the Ritz-Carlton on the night of December 15, are desirous of having it known that all of these dances are to be early affairs and will not interfere with the dances to be given elsewhere on the same nights. Robert Perkins will give a ball for his niece, Miss Mary Post, on December 15 at Sherry's, where also on the same night Mr. and Mrs. Thomas N. McCarter will give one to introduce their daughter, Miss Ellen McCarter. The dinner dance to be given by Mr. and Mrs. Ernest G. Fabbri on December 27 should not interfere with the success of that planned by Ralph J. Preston for his daughter, Miss Evelyn Preston, to be given at Sherry's.

The Three Sherry Dances, which have each year become more important with debutantes and the girls who have been out two or three years, will be resumed again and the dates selected are December 8, December 29 and January 19, all Friday nights. The committee for the coming season will include Mrs. B. Ogden Chisholm, Mrs. Edward S. Knapp and Mrs. J. Herbert Johnston, and the patronesses will be Mrs. John E. Alexander, Harry K. Knapp, Charles M. Chapin, Pierre Mall, Henry E. Coe, J. Pierpont Morgan, Richard C. Colt, Walter G. Oakman, Carl A. De Geradoff, H. De Berkeley Parsons, Russell H. Hoadley, Jr., Hiram W. Sibley, Columbus O'Donnell, Edwin S. Cramp, Louis Butler McCagg and Henry G. Trevor.

Other plans for debutantes have been upset, particularly those made for Flannery, at Sherry's on November 27. The day following has been chosen by Mrs. Beverly Ward, who will give a tea at 51 East Fifty-eighth street for her second daughter, Miss Jane Buckley Ward, and on December 2 Mrs. G. Trowbridge Hollister will have one at her home in Park avenue for her daughter, Miss Katherine Hollister.

Mrs. Anson Blake Moran will introduce Miss Annette Blake Moran at an afternoon reception on December 8 at her home, and on the previous day Mrs. William C. Delaney will give an afternoon reception at Sherry's for Miss Constance Delaney. Mrs. George M. Lynchon will give a tea on December 9, at her home, 88 East Fifty-fifth street, to introduce Miss Beatrice Lynchon, and on December 16, Mrs. Thurber Pruyn will introduce Miss Joannette Thurber Pruyn at the dancant to be held at Sherry's.

An afternoon dance will be given at Sherry's on December 23 by Mrs. Simon B. Chapin for her debutante daughter, Miss Elizabeth M. Chapin, and on December 30, also at Sherry's, Mrs. James M. Beck will have a dancant for Miss Beatrice Beck.

Invitations were sent out last week by Mrs. Lindsey Tappin for the Wednesday evening dances, beginning on November 15, which will be held at Sherry's, as they were last year. The patronesses include Mrs. Donnan Barber, Huntington Norton, Adams Hatcheller, Walter S. Gurnee, Jr., William R. K. Taylor, Ralph M. Johnson, Robert E. Hall, E. Prentice Kellough, S. Oakley Vander Pool, A. Rene Moon and G. Knight B. Wade.

When Mr. and Mrs. Ramsay Turnbull leave their country place, Appleton, in Bernardsville, N. J., they will go to 10 West Fifty-third street for the winter and Mr. and Mrs. J. Townsend Burden will be at 23 East Eighty-first street. Mr. and Mrs. William A. Burnham, who went to Honolulu shortly after their marriage in June, are now at 6 West Fifty-third street, and will spend the winter between here and Boston. Mrs. Burnham was the wife of William Manley.

Announcements of the marriage of Mrs. Natalie E. Goodwin and Burnet Rathbone Hughes, which took place on October 17, in Richmond, Va., were received here on Thursday. Mr. and

We have refrained from saying much, of late, about the state of the business of this Store. One mark after another has been reached, and passed. But increasing business is not the cause, but the effect, of public approval; and that is the most important and gratifying thing about it.

Still, we can't help saying that this October is running ahead of any previous October, and is by way of establishing the greatest sales-record for the month, in 52 years in business!

Thank YOU!

Many Monday Stirring Events—
